COMPANY BIOS:

Emilia Bjork-Perkins (she/her) is a Swedish-American performer, deviser, and teaching artist. She trained at Kulturama Institute for the Arts in Stockholm and at Dell'Arte School of Physical Theatre in Blue Lake, CA. Emilia is based in the Twin Cities, but enjoys working around the US and abroad when opportunities present themselves. She loves to travel and is always looking for the next adventure.

Graham Haught (they/them) has been performing and teaching theatre and movement for 14 years. They found community and family through devising and performing. Graham taught dance, acting, and set-design at The Crocker House Creative Arts Center in small-town El Dorado, California for over ten years. They met their wonderful co-founders and ensemble-members of CAHOOT?! while attending Dell'Arte International's MFA program for Ensemble-Based Physical Theatre—when graduating with the crew they decided they just couldn't part with this motley crew.

Eric William Jones (he/him) is an actor, narrator, and online content creator from Waukesha, Wisconsin. Eric received his BA in Theatre from Macalester College in St. Paul, MN and his MFA in Ensemble Based Physical Theatre from Dell'Arte International School of Physical Theatre in Blue Lake, CA. His versatility as a performer has resulted in his performing a wide range of styles and roles, from Rodgers and Hammerstein to Clown, and from “Tartuffe” in Tartuffe to “Prior Walter” in Angels in America. In addition to his onstage performance, Eric is also an audiobook narrator and Twitch streamer – for more information, check out twitch.tv/ihatebeingscared
